Rules of shared 3-dice

- Instead of rolling a dice (like in a normal ludo game), both players select from a shared set of 3 dice.
- Players take turns to pick a die from the available set of shared pool of 3 dice. Once a die is picked, it is no longer available for selection in that round.
- After all dice are picked, a new set is rolled for the next round.
- Each player starts a cycle by choosing a number from one of the available dice and moving their token accordingly.

- For example, the first player picks one die from the shared pool of three, then taps on the token to move. the 2nd player picks 1 dice from the remaining 2 dice, followed by the 1st player picking the last remaining dice. After all dice are picked, a new set is rolled. Now, player 2 picks first.
- Each player gets 30 moves each and equal first-pick chances. The cycle continues alternately between players, ensuring equal chances for both to pick the first die.

Basic Rules:

- You get to play with red tokens always, and all 4 tokens are already in play; no need to roll a 6 to move your token/s out.
- Pick a die from the shared pool and select your desired token to move it.
- Each move of a token earns 1 point.
- Tokens reaching home earn 56 points.
- Safeguard your tokens by landing on squares marked with a "star" or by stacking two tokens in the same square.
- Gain extra move by capturing token and bringing token home.

Reroll Power-Up:

- Use the reroll Power-Up once per game to obtain a fresh set of dice. Reroll refreshes available dice. When you use the reroll Power-Up in Ludo Remix, it refreshes the available dice for both players. This means that the dice currently in the shared pool (whether there are 3, 2, or 1 die left) are replaced depending on the number of dice in the shared pool.
- If you're not satisfied with your current dice options, activate the reroll Power-Up to refresh the dice for both players. For example, if you only have one die left when you decide to use the reroll, you'll refresh that die, potentially getting a different number. However, it's possible to get the same number again.

- By strategically using rerolls, players can alter their fate and introduce new possibilities into the game

Capturing Ludo Tokens:

- Capture an opponent's token by landing on it, which sends it back to its starting position.
- The opponent loses all points earned by the captured token, but you don't gain additional points.

Earning Points:

- You earn 1 point for each tile moved by your token.
- A total of 56 points for taking a token to the home.
- Earn points by moving tokens and reaching home.
- You don't get any bonus points on capturing opponent tokens. However, points accumulated by the captured tokens are deducted from the opponent's total points scored.

Unlock/Get "Extra Moves":

- Receive an extra move by picking a 6, capturing an opponent's token, or reaching home.
- Roll a separate dice for the extra move, which doesn't contribute to your move count.
- The extra move is a random die roll, which is not part of your shared pool of normal 3-dice.

Turn Timer (With No Lives):

- Each turn has a 15-second timer, with a 60-second time bank for additional time.

- If you fail to move within this time (Turn timer of 15s + extra time bank of 60s), you are removed from the game. And the opponent wins automatically.
- You cannot skip your turn voluntarily in Ludo Remix.
- You don't get any extra lives.

Skip Scenarios:

- Your turn will get skipped when you get triple 6 or when no moves are possible.

How to win in Wowzy's Ludo Remix?

- The game will be points based and the winner will be the player with highest points at the end of the game.
- The Two-Player game ends when:
 - Moves Deplete: Each player has a fixed number of moves—30 moves each. Once both players have used up all of their 30 moves, the game comes to an end.
 - All Tokens of a Player Reach Home: If all of a player's tokens successfully reach the "Home" space or goal area, the game ends. (The winner is the player who takes all his four tokens home first)
 - All Remaining Players Leave the Game or Get Disqualified: If a player leaves the game, whether voluntarily or due to being kicked out by the system, the remaining player is declared the winner.
- Tips for winning
 - Plan your moves ahead and use reroll powerup wisely.
 - Play strategically to capture the opponent's most advanced tokens to reduce maximum points from the opponent. And protect your most advanced tokens and avoid getting captured by taking your tokens to safe places.

- Consider the dice numbers available to your opponent, as both players can see each other's dice for the next three turns in a round. Use this information to plan your moves effectively.
- Keep your tokens out of the opponent's reach when possible, especially if your opponent gets to pick first from the shared dice pool.
- Watch your opponent's moves and try to block your opponent if possible. Observe your opponent's moves closely and aim to hinder their progress whenever possible. Preventing your opponent from reaching home is crucial, as each token brought home earns a substantial 56 points.
- Always analyze the available dice and tokens to determine the best move. Consider options like advancing your token to maximize points, capturing your opponent's most advanced token to reduce their score, or prioritizing the safety of your own tokens. Remember, winning in Ludo Remix often depends on strategic choices rather than simply selecting the highest number.
- Stay calm and patient & practice regularly.
- Play responsibly: Enjoy the game responsibly and within your limits.
- Utilize Extra Time Bank: Take advantage of the 60-second extra time bank to think more and make the most optimum choice. You can use this extra time across multiple moves, so take your time and make the best move possible.
- Tie Scenarios:
 - In tie scenarios where both players have the same score at the end of the game, the winning amount is split equally between them.
 - For example, if the entry fee is Rs5 and the winning amount is Rs 8.5, both players will receive an equal share of the prize money. (winning amount will be split between both the players)
- Safe Zones/Tiles:
 - In Ludo Remix, there are 8 designated safe zones marked on the board where tokens are protected from being captured.

- Additionally, a temporary safe zone can be created if multiple tokens of the same color occupy the same tile.
- Moreover, if tokens of different colors share a tile with multiple tokens, it also becomes a temporary safe zone.
- For instance, if two red tokens occupy a tile, it forms a temporary safe zone; if a blue token joins them and one red token moves out in the next turn, the tile becomes a temporary safe zone for one red and one blue token.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ's)

- Why can't I find an opponent in match-making? If you're unable to find an opponent during matchmaking, it could be because there are currently no players participating in that particular game template. Alternatively, online players may already be engaged in matches against other opponents. To increase your chances of finding a match, consider selecting a game template that shows online players actively engaged in gameplay. You can check the number of players currently playing each template directly from the lobby, which is highlighted for your convenience.
- Does "Play Again" match me against the same opponent? When you select "Play Again," our system attempts to match you with the players who are also searching for a match. However, if there are no other players currently searching for a match in that specific template, you may be matched against the same opponent again.
- I got the chance to pick in the 2nd move as I was the 2nd mover. Does that mean I get fewer moves than my opponent? No, it doesn't mean you get fewer moves. In Wowzy's Ludo Remix, both players have an equal number of moves. Even if you pick second in one turn, you'll get to pick first in the next turn, ensuring fairness. So, you and your opponent have an equal chance to make moves throughout the game. Additionally, which player gets to move first is totally random.

- I didn't realize how the game ended all of a sudden? Is it time based? No, Wowyz's Ludo Remix is a 2-player game which is move based meaning both players get 30 moves each. You can track your number of moves left from the moves counter, which is displayed at the top of the Ludo Board.
- Can I play a 4-player game? No, currently we are offering only a 2-player format.
- Why aren't there 3-lives in the game? We don't have 3 lives for turn skips in the game. Instead, if you don't complete your move within the regular 15-second time limit, you'll receive a fixed extra time of 60 seconds. However, if you still haven't finished your move within this extra time, you'll be automatically removed from the game. This ensures fair gameplay and prevents unnecessary delays. However, you can use your extra time of 60 seconds across multiple moves. Like, in 1st move you couldn't complete your turn in 15s, then your extra time starts and you finish your move in 10s (meaning there's 50s remaining in your extra time bank). In the 2nd move also if you couldn't complete your move in 15s, then again the extra time starts but now you will have 50s instead of 60s, as you had used up 10s in your 1st move. Use your extra time to plan and think strategically.
- Can I check how much of my extra time is remaining? Yes, you can check how much of your extra time is remaining. Simply look for the small 'i' icon in your score area, and tap on it to view the remaining time. This feature allows you to stay informed and make the most of your extra time during the game.
- I didn't get any extra bonus points on capturing my opponent's token/s. Why? The reason you didn't receive any extra bonus points upon capturing your opponent's token/s is that when a token is captured, the player's score reduces by the points accumulated by the token, and the captured token returns to its starting position. We refrain from awarding extra bonus points to the player who captures because the captured token's player is already penalized in two ways. Granting extra points for capturing would skew the fairness of the game. Therefore, there are no bonus points awarded for capturing tokens in order to maintain fair gameplay.

By strategically using rerolls, players can alter their fate and introduce new possibilities into the game.
